GENERAL

Preparing CMP-4B application forms under the Controlled Materials Plan authority. It lists all Class B products and provides for each the official code designation, and the NPA Division (or Claimant Agency) to which it is assigned.

The Class B products are listed in groups to correspond with the reporting requirements under CMP. Separate applications must be prepared for each of the coded product classes listed separately in this manual. Any number of individual items all falling under a single general group description may be covered by one Form CMP-4B application, but an application may not combine requirements for more than one coded product class.

Manufacturers are required to file CMP-4B application forms for all the Class B products listed in this manual except those identified by an asterisk (*). Applications for asterisked products will not be accepted. In the event that a product class contains products both identified by an asterisk and not so identified, the application Form CMP-4B may include the requirements for only those products not identified by an asterisk.

CMP-4B applications should be filed for the manufacture of repair and replacement parts if controlled materials are required for their production. Such applications will cover repair parts for all products listed—whether asterisked or not.

An applicant preparing a Form CMP-4B may include the controlled materials requirements of any Class B components or subassemblies which he makes himself for incorporation in the product covered by the application. If this is done, a statement should be attached to the application listing coded product classes of the Class B components thus included.

A manufacturer may consider such components or subassemblies as part of the end product itself if the end product is identified by an asterisk. In this event, a CMP-4B for the manufacture of the component need not be submitted.

Manufacturers of products listed in the Official CMP Class B Product List and not identified by an asterisk are not required to submit a Form CMP-4B for the third quarter if their total requirements of controlled materials do not exceed the following amounts:

Carbon steel.....	5 tons.	Copper and copper-base alloy.....	500 pounds.
Alloy steel.....	1,000 pounds.	Aluminum.....	500 pounds.
Stainless steel.....	None.

This official CMP Class B Product List generally covers the B-product portions of the 5-digit product classes used by the Census Bureau in the 1949 and 1950 Annual Surveys of Manufactures and by NPA in reporting on Form NPAF-1. In a number of instances where one B-product class was under the jurisdiction of more than one NPA Division, the classes were broken down and given a 7-digit code, the 6th digit of which is always a "9". In other instances, 5-digit census classes of products have been grouped to facilitate reporting on the CMP-4B applications. These are indicated by 4-digit codes. It should be noted that reporting on other forms, such as NPAF-1, will continue to be required in the 5-digit Census product class detail.

This Official CMP Class B Product List is included in the Product Assignment Directory which will be available within the next few days. Reference to the Product Assignment Directory will facilitate identifying the particular product in which you may be interested.
